

Romans #054

“Sola Fide”

Romans 3:27-29

“Blessed is the one who does not walk in step with the wicked or stand in the way that sinners take or sit in the company of mockers, but whose delight is in the Law of the LORD and who meditates on His Law day and night” Psalm 1:1-2

Contradictions cannot exist in the perfect plan of God.

Arrogance is self-reliance, self-absorption and self-empowerment; while confidence is trusting the Father, abiding in the Son and walking by means of the Holy Spirit.

Only believers in Jesus Christ can have the assurance that each day brings us one day closer to Jesus Christ and a new body, not subject to evil and decomposition.

Faith plus anything is not faith!

Boasting is an expression of arrogance where either a system of self-righteousness or human works has intruded into the plan of God.

Self-righteousness is an arrogant fantasy of rationalization in comparing one's abilities or strengths with someone else's weaknesses.

God in grace provides all that His integrity demands from the human race.

The working part of the integrity of God is justice and God's justice gets all the credit and does all the work.

God therefore, can add something to our integrity, but we cannot add anything to God's integrity.

All of the believing in the world secures nothing but condemnation from God but the tiniest bit of faith in Jesus Christ secures eternal salvation.

Faith is not something we do [principle of works] it's the means by which we receive what God has done for us.

The principle of the law of works is an evil satanic design presented to man in the Garden as the alternative to perfect environment from the integrity of God.

The tree of the knowledge of good and evil was forbidden because in his creation relationship with God, the integrity of God only gave man information he needed.

The law of works implies that man by his talent, self-righteousness, good deeds or personality improvement, advances the integrity of God.

Through maximum adjustment to the justice of God, the believer can glorify God, but he cannot glorify, promote or demote God by his own actions.

Justification is the judicial act of God where He recognizes His own righteousness when it's given to anyone who believes in Jesus Christ.

The problem of arrogance and self-righteousness as a result of success has motivated people to make an issue out of race.

Racial issues are generally the result of rebellion and evil.

God is not limited to one race in the concept of blessing from His integrity.

God is not God if He provides blessing for one race only, or for one race to the exclusion of other races.
